MOUNTED POLICE

RECIPIENTS OF TRIBUTE

Party Leaders Join in Praise of the Force—Opposition Ceases to Obstruct

Ottawa, July 4.—In the House this afternoon upon the vote for Mounted Police the leaders of the Government and Opposition joined in a warm tribute to the work of the force. Mr. Thompson spoke appreciatively of their services in the Yukon and supported their claim to increased pay. The Premier announced that it would not be possible for many years to withdraw the Mounted Police from the district adjacent to the international boundary from the Red River to the Rockies, where their presence was needed to prevent smuggling and to keep out cattle thieves. The provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan will be asked to contribute towards the cost of maintaining the force within their respective bounds.

In the evening the Opposition almost voted with the Government side in haste to pass the remaining items of the estimates, and when the House adjourned only two items of the estimates remained.

The Naturalization Act received the third reading and the announcement was made that the third reading of the autonomy legislation will be moved Wednesday.

GODERICH ELEVATOR BURNED
Goderich, July 4.—Goderich elevator and Transit Company's elevator took fire today just before noon and was totally destroyed. The elevator had in store over 2,000 bushels of wheat valued at $150,000 on which there is insurance in various companies for $80,000. The loss is heavy on the town.

THE BOAT UPSET

Chatham, July 4.—Eric Bielby was drowned in the river Thames last night. He had taken his wife and children across the river and was returning standing up in the stern and paddling. Watchers told him to sit down as the boat was rocking dangerously. The accident was witnessed by his wife and children and a number of neighbors who were powerless to assist.

SUPREME COURT

In the case of Baldwin vs. The Edmonton Milling Co., in the Supreme Court yesterday, judgment was given for the plaintiff for $124.65.

The next case that occupied the attention of the court was a horse deal of even more than ordinary complications. The plaintiff, Seymour, bought two horses from the defendant, Coulson at $80 and $110 respectively. On the first he paid, giving a lien note for $100. The second horse, being balky, was returned; then the defendant came with his lien note and took away the other horse. The action was to recover value of horse taken away which plaintiff claimed to have paid for. Judgment for defendant without costs. James for plaintiff, Mills for defendant.

THE DISSIDENTS'S

The Calgary Herald quotes with every appearance of editorial approval and gratification an article from the Mail and Empire, a sample paragraph of which was published in the Bulletin of Thursday last. As the ostensible purpose of the article was to give to the Ontario readers of the Mail and Empire the impression that Northern Alberta is populated by "foreigners" and southern Alberta by "Canadians," its endorsement by the advocate-in-chief of "non-partisan" government may be considered afeat even for the Herald. From the attitude of the Herald the people of Northern and Central Alberta may calculate exactly the spirit and purpose which animates the Herald and the measure of justice likely to be accorded them by any government elected on the program or through the instrumentality of that journal.

IMMIGRATION AGENTS VISIT THE FAIR.

Mr. James P. Ballantine, of the News, Cumnock, Scotland, Canadian Government agent, and J. N. Grieve, Canadian Government agent at Spokane, Wash., were in the city, attending the exhibition. Mr. Ballantine is making a tour of the Canadian west for the first time, that he may be better able to speak concerning it on his return to his native land. His work has been confined to sending out experienced farm hands and domestic servants from Scotland. He brought out fifty young Scotch plowmen with him. Twenty of them went to Ontario and the other thirty were quickly hired by Manitoba farmers.

Mr. Ballantine says that while we have had quite a few Scotch immigrants, that we have had almost none from Ayrshire, Dumfriesshire and Kerkudbrightshire, and that these being excellent farming districts, the immigrants from them are a most desirable class, being good plowmen and experienced cattle men as well. He informed the Bulletin that he could get quite a number of excellent servant girls to come to this country, but they cannot pay their passage out. Their wages there are so small that they cannot get money enough ahead to live. He stated that if any person wished a domestic servant and was willing to advance the passage money, to be repaid out of wages, he would be pleased to hear from them and would undertake to send a girl of excellent ability and irreproachable character and make an agreement for her to remain in a place for a stated period. Any letters addressed to Mr. Ballantine, care J. Obed Smith, Director of Immigration, Winnipeg, Man., would reach him up to July 20, after which he could be communicated with at his address in Scotland.

Mr. Ballantine is very much impressed by what he has seen in the west, and particularly with the advance made by the towns. He said he didn't expect to find much west of Winnipeg, but was agreeably disappointed.

Mr. J. N. Grieve says that while business is fairly brisk in Spokane, there are a great many idle people in the city and a good many of them in actual want. He has been very successful in securing settlers for Canada. Almost every available lot of any value in the United States is taken up, and many of those on improved farms are selling out and coming to Canada. During the past year he has sent some 4,000 people into the west, and over 300 car loads of settlers' effects.

The majority of these settlers, he claims, are worth $1000 to $15,000. One man brought 325 horses, besides a considerable amount of cash. One of his men settled in the Pincher Creek Creek district and has 1109 acres of fall wheat this year which he estimates will yield about forty bushels to the acre. Another man went in east of Red Deer about 100 miles and located 400 acres, for himself and sons, of land he claims to be equal to the finest in the state of Illinois. Most of these settlers, he has induced to come to Canada, have settled in Southern Alberta and east of Red Deer. When the Canadian Northern gets in here many of them will go down that way.

Both gentlemen expressed their surprise at the success of our exhibition and were extremely well pleased with their visit to the city. They are both the right stamp of moderate reasonable men who make the most satisfactory agents for Canada's Immigration Department.

LACROSSE

The city team went over to Strathcona yesterday evening to get beaten to the time of 5 to 3. The game was somewhat ragged for the first half but improved toward the end. The Iroquois played a good deal better combination than the home team, but they did not score the goals.

The game was called at 8 o'clock, and after a few skirmishes the first goal was scored in two minutes by Richards of the Strathconas. The ball travelled back and forth for the remainder of the quarter, occasionally threatening the net but without changing the score.

The beginning of the second quarter marked an improvement in the playing of the visitors and their first goal was scored by Banford in five minutes but two minutes later by a lucky throw Dobson scored for the home team so that the result was 2-1 in favor of Strathcona at half time.

In the third quarter Harris put the ball in the net for the visitors thus evening matters up and the result remained so to the end of the quarter. Then came the last chance to play. The Iroquois went in to win and in five minutes Harris scored again. Then the Edmonton boys seemed to play as though it was all over, and it was—all over them. In two minutes Kent, the star player of the Strathconas, scored and two minutes later Carmichael made another for the home team and four minutes later yet another. Time was called with the score 5-2.

D. Corbett acted as referee and performed his part satisfactorily. He did not have to decorate the fence to any serious extent. The game was a good natured contest all the way.

PRESS MEN'S VISIT*ENTERTAINED BY THE CITY

The Washington Correspondents Delighted With Edmonton—Optimistic as to its Future

The Washington correspondents left the city at 4 p.m. yesterday well pleased with their visit. They were a company of men who were not out merely for amusement, but were seriously engaged in acquiring information of Western Canada for their various newspapers. All kinds of questions were asked from the retail prices of tea and bacon to the habits of the musk ox and the value of his hide. Every one of them was enthusiastic over Edmonton. R. L. Jones of Collier's Weekly, said to the Bulletin, "You have the most promising city west of Winnipeg. With excellent farming land, your coal and timber resources, you have just the conditions that have made great cities in the United States. Edmonton will be the great manufacturing centre of the West. You have the other Western towns beat to death."

To Mr. E. P. Page, representative of the Western Canada Immigration Association, is due some of the credit for bringing these men here. Mr. Page is remaining in the city for a few days to further discuss the work of that Association with the council and the board of trade. He has an excursion of representatives of great agricultural papers in hand and it is hoped they will also be directed to our city.

After viewing the city and part of the surrounding country, the visiting correspondents had a noon luncheon in the Alberta shortly after 1:30 p.m. yesterday. When the inner room had been satisfied by the excellent luncheon provided, Acting Mayor May welcomed the press men to the city in a few appropriate remarks. He was pleased they had taken the trouble to come so far north to see our city and assured them of the pleasure it gave him to offer them the freedom of the city.

Mr. Thos. F. Dawson, of the Associated Press, in reply said he had heard and read a great deal about the city but he was sure his fellow-correspondents would agree with him when he said "The half had not been told." This western country had burst upon their party as a revelation. Its topography was so varied and its wealth so vast that they were unable to properly take it in. He said they were not only captivated by the beauty and prosperity of the country, but by the frankness, kindness and hospitality of its people. He was now quite sure that the United States would not annex Canada, but not quite sure things would not turn out the other way. At any rate he did not think it would be very difficult to annex it if there were no correspondents. They were encouraged with the country and its government and the red flag they saw flying from so many buildings.

With reference to Edmonton, he said its location was good and its natural advantages great. With good railway facilities, the great river, fertile soil, coal beds and good climate, that city will, in a few years, be one of the marvels of the continent. He thanked the council and board of trade for their entertainment.

The mayor then called upon Mr. John A. McDougall, one of the plenipotentiaries of the city. He joined with Acting Mayor May in extending a hearty welcome to the visitors. He was proud of being one of the founders of the city, and as one of its early citizens had always had faith in it. When the government came to the Minister of the Interior they came to Edmonton; when they wanted a capital for the new province they came to Edmonton because they knew a good thing. Visitors used to go along the main line, but new he was glad they came up this way, and here they realized that they had not seen the best of the country until they had seen Edmonton. He was glad to say that today, and we were under obligation to the Western Canada Immigration Association for bringing them here. He paid the C. P. R. a compliment and doubted if the visitors ever rode on a better-equipped railway. He expressed the hope that the correspondents had enjoyed their visit.

Mr. J. S. Knappan, secretary of the Western Canada Immigration Association, was the last speaker. He was indeed pleased to be the means of bringing this body of newspaper men to the West. He believed them to be the best and most representative body of press men who had yet visited Western Canada. They were here to study the country and its resources.

The mayor then called upon Mr. Donald Ross with the compliment that had been given to Mr. Ross that he could have been no Edmonton. Mr. Ross said he felt he was among the Washington correspondents in 1880 when he had shaken hands with President and Mrs. Buchanan in that city. He was one of the earliest pioneers of Edmonton, but was not quite sure whether the city grew up with him or he grew up with the city.

President Campbell, of the board of trade, extended a welcome to the visitors. He had pleasure in driving them about and was glad they were so favorably impressed with the city and country, and agreed with the opinion that ten years would work a great change in Edmonton.

Secretary Fisher, of the board, joined heartily in the welcome to the press men. He reminded them that three fourths of the area of this continent is north of the international boundary, and one half the latter area was contained in the two new provinces. In ten years Alberta, he prophesied, would be a very important factor in the wheat markets of the world.

D. W. Bolz, M.P., of Winnipeg, was the last speaker. It was his duty, he said, to facilitate, not to retard, the progress of the party, and consequently he would speak but briefly. He expressed his gratification to the people of Edmonton for the manner in which they had entertained their guests. He had been in the West for twenty-three years, but had to wait for a party of Washington correspondents to bring him to Edmonton. He had heard Hon. Mr. Oliver speak of this city, but even his eloquence had not prepared the speaker for what he had seen today. As president of the Western Canada Immigration Association, he was pleased to be partially, at least, responsible for the visits of the company.

Three cheers were then proposed and heartily given for "Edmonton, the Capital of Alberta," followed by cheers for the visiting correspondents.

PIANO RECITAL

The piano recital by Mr. Frank Welsman, of Toronto, on Friday evening, was an event of more than usual importance, and despite strong counter attractions, a good sized audience of music-lovers, assembled in McDougall church.

Mr. Welsman more than sustained his reputation as an artist of a high order, and was enthusiastically received, being called upon for several encore numbers.

His first number was a double one, Nocturne, Op. 15, No. 2, Chopin, and Ballad in G. minor, Chopin. The G. minor ballad is considered the most difficult of Chopin's compositions, but it was given with faultless execution, the different themes being well brought out with a full appreciation of the composer's ideas.

Valse Impromptu, Woyscie (dedicated to Frank Welsman) is a bright selection.

Scherzo in A., Welsman, showed the pianist as a composer, and was beautifully played.

Welsh Rhapsody, Careme Lucas, gave Mr. Welsman a chance to show his power and command of tone quality. Clarence Lucas is a Canadian composer. Fiedlerman, Waltz, Strauss Schutte, and Marche Militaire, Schubert Tausig, was received by the audience with great enthusiasm. The artist graciously responded to an encore, the Scherzo's Aufschluss. His last number Rhapsody No. 12, Liszt was a fitting climax, bringing into play all the power of the instrument. Mr. Welsman is a virtuoso of whom Canada is proud and the musical-loving public of Edmonton will be glad to have him again visit the city.

Miss Ethel Webster who was in splendid voice sang "You and I," (Liza Lehman) winning well-merited applause.

Mr. J. Harry Alexander, of Toronto, sang "Down the Vale," "Mairi," and "Four Leaf Clover," Brownell. He has been suffering from throat trouble and was not in his usual form.

Mr. Percy Hook acted as accompanist in his usual able manner.

Mr. V. Barford kindly loaned his grand piano for the occasion.

—Edmonton Times: Monday morning's west bound passenger train No. 3, ran into a rock slide a short distance east of Bellevue, the engine being thrown from the track and rolled down the embankment. Engineer J. J. Cascake saw the slide too late to keep from hitting it, but applied the air brakes and thus saved the train from striking the rocks with full force and saved what would have been a terrible accident. As it was, when the engine turned over the engineer was thrown out, but escaped without any serious injuries. Not so however with the fireman, George Grant, who unfortunately was pinned under the engine and severely scalded by escaping steam. When extricated from under the upturned engine he was taken to Dr. Malcolmson's hospital at Frank, where everything that medical skill could do for him was done to alleviate his sufferings and save his life. Tuesday morning however, he succumbed to his injuries.

THE NEWS OF THE DAY

IN CONDENSED DESPATCHES

brief items from many sources tell the story of the day's events.

BOARDS OF TRADE CONVENTION

Regina, June 30.—There was a large attendance at the Territorial boards of trade convention this afternoon. The business proper commenced with regard to the salaries of Provincial Ministers. It was resolved they should be on a liberal scale and commensurate with the responsibility of the offices. It was also resolved that transient traders should hereafter take out licenses. With regard to Government telephones a resolution was passed endorsing government ownership and operation of a complete national telephone system. Other questions introduced were in connection with the insolvency act and government inspection of grain.

CASE DISMISSED

Toronto, June 30.—The big law suit in the case of Saskatchewan Land and Homestead Co., vs. Leadley estate and John T. Moore relative to some 61,000 acres of land in the North West has been prominently before the courts of Ontario for two years and the hearing has been on progress here for the past seven days before Mr. Justice Teetzel. The plaintiffs claimed the right to redeem the lands which in 1900 had passed to the Leadley estate in satisfaction of some $290,000 of advances. In the efforts to set aside the transfer fraud was charged against the executors of the estate, the directors of the company and John T. Moore the managing director. The result was a victory for the defendants. At the close of the arguments of counsel which lasted all day yesterday, Mr. Justice Teetzel without leaving the bench gave judgment stating that after giving the widest latitude to the plaintiffs he did not find the slightest title of evidence to support the allegations of the plaintiffs, and therefore dismissed the case with costs.

MEXICAN STORM DESTROYS A TOWN

Mexico July 3.—A great storm and floods killed 1,000 at Guanajuato a mining city. Many were British and American residents. The town of Marfil was completely wiped out.

BALL GAMES

Saturday's scores—Winnipeg 7, Friday 2; mornings: Winnipeg 5 Fargo 3; afternoon: Grand Forks 10; Duluth 7; Superior 5; Crookston 4; Sunday—Grand Forks 12; Duluth 3.

SECRETARY HAY DEAD

New York, N.Y., July 3.—John Hay, U.S. Secretary of state, died suddenly Saturday. He was formerly ambassador to the Court of St. James. King Edward referred to his death as a national loss. All European Governments sent regrets.

NO DELAY ALLOWED

Oyster Bay, July 3.—The peace plenipotentiaries are the Russian Ambassador Muravieff and Ito and the Japanese Minister of Foreign Affairs Komura and Koguro Takahashi. They will meet in Washington soon after August 1st. The Japanese Party of the Russian entourage has already started with a large staff. Japan insists that there be no delays or "tomfoolery" by Russia. She is strongly insistent on that point and has notified Pres. Roosevelt accordingly.

A NATIONAL CELEBRATION

Winnipeg, July 3.—From the Great Lakes to the Last West the national holiday was never observed so generally before as it was on Saturday. Reports from all over Manitoba and the Territories tell of great celebrations. In every town nothing special was planned, but a large number of outdoor sport fixtures such as baseball, lacrosse, cricket, rifle and trap shooting. But the city was practically deserted so many and varied were the excursions that went to every point of the compass in search of fresh fields and pastures new and the scenic beauty of the waters. Every train went off smoothly with one exception and the streets were which usually cease running at midnight were busy hauling tired trippers from the stations till after five this morning. One exception, however, was a rather serious one. Four excursions were run in Winnipeg Beach and on the return trip one at one this morning consisting of cars filled collided with the rear section of a stone train a few miles out of Winnipeg. The engine piled was broken and the baggage and mail cars derailed and turned over. The coaches were crowded but no passengers was hurt owing to the slow rate at which the train stopped. The number of passengers missed the relay train and walked in. A death from a stroke and a few slight accidents on street cars and merry-go-rounds are the sum total of the day's mishaps.

RUSSIAN WARSHIPS*ARE NOW POWERFUL PIRATES

The Potemkine Spreads Disaffection Among the Fleet and Sails Unharmful to a Foreign Port.

London, July 3.—The big Russian battleship Prince Potemkine, whose sailors mutinied and took the ship, after defying the whole Black Sea fleet and taunting the rest of the sailors thereof with sedition, has left Odessa and is now in a Turkish port out of Russian jurisdiction.

Despatches on this peculiar and alarming performance are very confused. The Russian despatches are distorted, and in the main, the majority of St. Petersburg cables are precisely the opposite of the exact occurrences.

It appears, however, that the Potemkine steamed out to meet the Black Sea fleet under Admiral Kruger, where it was discovered she had two hundred armed mutineers aboard from the Odessa naval yards, a civilian being in command. She sailed defiantly through the fleet and instead of firing on her two ships followed her back to Odessa. Again she went out to meet them and was told to rejoin the fleet. She signaled "We stay here." The fleet then made toward port and the Potemkine sailed toward the Black Sea coast. She is now at Kusku, Russia, where the authorities have given her water and provisions. Admiral Kruger, in despair, returned to Sevastopol, with the remainder of the fleet, having accomplished nothing and, after a council of war, drew the tides from the boilers, the officers being afraid of the crews. Some ships have been partially dismantled and crews discharged. In all, three monitors or three ships are at large as pirates, or three ships are paralysed and useless.

The Russian Minister of War has resigned. Large numbers of mutinous sailors at Libau have fortified themselves in a redoubt and are holding out against the military. All news from there and Cronstadt is suppressed.

The Potemkine has a torpedo boat with her and an unknown steamer. She also obtained supplies from the Russian cruiser Ondukoff, and took the men and officers of the Potemkine, the Vocha, and generally did what she pleased before leaving Russian waters. The crew of the Vocha declared common cause with the Potemkine. Censored despatches say the crew of the battleship Gorgi Polednikoff, which was left at Odessa by the Potemkine, surrendered to the authorities and remained remaining aboard. It is likely, however, that they are in full rebellion, as the source is as unreliable as untrustworthy.

Matters in Russia itself are more serious than ever. An armistice is being arranged in Manchuria, but the Japanese are moving on Vladivostok and a big battle is imminent on the Tumen river.

EDMONTON MAN WEDS

Cobourg, Ont., June 28.—A fashion-able wedding took place in St. Peter's church today when Edith Myra Kerr, second daughter of Senator Wm. and Mrs. Kerr, was married to Donald Walter Macdonald, of Edmonton, son of Mr. Donald Macdonald, and a grandson of Capt. Archibald Macdonald, retired British officer, and one of the first settlers of Cobourg. The marriage was solemnized by the Rev. Canon Sprague, rector. The church was profusely and beautifully decorated with flowers, the color scheme being white, pink and green. The bride entered with her father, who gave her in marriage.

The bridal gown was of ivory satin with long court train falling from the shoulders of bodice, which was a mass of fluty cutout, with bolero of old lace. The same rare old lace adorned the skirt. The bride wore a long bridal veil and orange blossoms, and the bridegroom a jacket with a gold necktie set in pearls, with a gold pendant. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses, lilies of the valley and asparagus fern and was attended by a maid of honor, Miss Mabel Kerr, her sister, and four bridesmaids, Miss Minnie Macdonald, Cobourg; Miss Marion Walrourge, Ottawa; Miss Lillian Moore, Toronto; Miss Lulu Fraser, Cobourg, and two tiny flower girls, Miss Eddie Heath, Toronto, and Miss Kathleen Armstrong, Cobourg, and two pages, Masters J. N. Kerr and Teddy Ketchum, attired as sailor boys in white suits. The best man was the groom's cousin, Herbert Ketchum, of Toronto. The ushers were W. K. Kerr, Cobourg, county attorney; F. D. Kerr, barrister, Peterboro, brother of the bride; Major Norman Rogers, Grafton; Ross McKinnon, Toronto.

The bride's mother wore a magnificently gored of many satin brocades, with a trimming of ruff and lace. Her bonnet was made of white lace and mauve lace.

Mrs. McDonald, mother of the groom, wore a rich black grass grain silk gown trimmed with beautiful lace; her chaplet was of sequins and black chenille with white ospreys.

Dainty hand-painted and sequin fans w.r.t. the girl g.m.s. to the bridesmaids; to the maid of honor he gave a gold crescent brooch set with pearls; to the flower girls silver padlock bracelets, and to the best man and ushers, gold nugget scarf pins.

Joyous peals from the recently-installed chimes of bells announced the conclusion of the church ceremony, which was followed by a reception at "The Maples," attended by between 200 and 300 guests. Prominent in the vast collection of presents were autograph photographs of St. Wilfrid and Lady Laurier, and handsome gifts from different members of the cabinet and senate.

The bride and groom left on the evening train. After a stay at the Royal Muskoka hotel, they will return to Cobourg for a visit, before going to their future home in Edmonton.

A team was drowned at the ferry at Fort Saskatchewan last Friday. They belonged to a settler from east of the fort and were being brought to the city. The horses were hitched to a wagon, to the back of which a yoke of oxen were tied. The oxen backed from the ferry, taking horses and wagon with them. The oxen were cut loose from the wagon and released, but the horses were drowned.

Indian Head Vidette: A sad accident occurred at the C.P.R. station here on Friday last, which resulted in the death of a six year old boy, Alfred John Cosh. The little fellow in company with several companions was playing on the C.P.R. platform when a west-bound freight attracted their attention. Catching hold of an uncoupled air brake, the boy ran along with the train for several yards when he lost his balance and was thrown beneath the wheels, sustaining injuries which resulted in his death a few hours later.

A correspondent of the Fort Saskatchewan Vidette writes from St. Paul: A team has been drowned in the neighborhood by the sad and sudden death of Mrs. Jas. McBride, nee Annie Campbell, who passed away after a few days illness. She underwent an operation for appendicitis which proved fatal. Two Drs. and a nurse were present during the operation and that human agency could do was done, but it was too late. She leaves a young husband and three small children beside several brothers and sisters in this locality. A strange coincidence was the death of her aged father the same night. Mr. Campbell had been ill all spring and his death was noted in the news. The Royal Canadian Guards left the home of Mr. John Campbell on Thursday, June 25th. Mr. J. K. Smith and Mr. A. M. Dallas officiated. The concourse of sorrowing friends and relatives was the largest ever seen in this port.
